

Living Earth Expo

Summary

The Living Earth Expo is a community innovation festival aimed at bringing together individuals passionate about a good, clean, and healthy future for all in Namibia. The event will take place over the weekend of 28 October 2023, with the main objective of fostering connections, learning, and collaboration to address the building blocks of a sustainable future.

Key Details:

- Objective: Create a fast-moving movement towards a sustainable future
- Name: Living Earth Expo (also referred to as a Community Innovation Festival)
- Date: 28 October 2023
- Venue: Waldorf School
- Expected Attendees: 500 people
- Stalls: 30
- Presentations: 8 (30 minutes each with Q&A)
- Workshops: 8 practical sessions on topics like tree planting, urban gardening, composting, and biochar
- Focus Groups: At least 5 groups formed to address specific building blocks of a sustainable future for Namibia
- Budget: Break even

Event Spaces:

- Exhibition area
- Presentation room

- Food court
- Green market
- Flea market
- Parking, toilets, and kids' program area

Program Highlights:

- Organic farmer meet and greet
- Catering, market, presentations, exhibition, and workshops throughout the day
- Children's program from 10am to 4pm
- Fundraising Sundowner event with art auction
- Possible artist/musicians songwriting contest/concert

This summary provides an overview of the Living Earth Expo, a community innovation festival in Namibia, aiming to connect and engage individuals for a sustainable future.

To register to attend or for more information please visit our website

www.living-earth-expo.org

